PART 3 INTERACTION STYLES 189

CHAPTER 5 Direct Manipulation and Virtual Environments 191
5.1 Introduction 192
5.2 Examples of Direct Manipulation 193
5.3 Discussion of Direct Manipulation 211
5.4 3D Interfaces 218
5.5 Teleoperation 223
5.6 Virtual and Augmented Reality 227

CHAPTER 6 Menu Selection, Form Fill-in, and Dialog Boxes 243
6.1 Introduction 244
6.2 Task-Related Menu Organization 245
6.3 Single Menus 246
6.4 Combinations of Multiple Menus 254
6.5 Content Organization 262
6.6 Fast Movement through Menus 268
6.7 Data Entry with Menus: Form Fill-in, Dialog Boxes, and Alternatives 269
6.8 Audio Menus and Menus for Small Displays 277

CHAPTER 7 Command and Natural Languages 289
7.1 Introduction 290
7.2 Command-Organization Functionality, Strategies, and Structure 294
7.3 Naming and Abbreviations 299
7.4 Natural Language in Computing 304

CHAPTER 8 Interaction Devices 321
8.1 Introduction 322
8.2 Keyboards and Keypads 323
8.3 Pointing Devices 329
8.4 Speech and Auditory Interfaces 349
8.5 Displays—Small and Large 359

CHAPTER 9 Collaboration and Social Media Participation 377
9.1 Introduction 378
9.2 Goals of Collaboration and Participation 381
9.3 Asynchronous Distributed Interfaces: Different Place, Different Time 386
9.4 Synchronous Distributed Interfaces: Different Place, Same Time 401
9.5 Face-to-Face Interfaces: Same Place, Same Time 407

PART 4 DESIGN ISSUES 421

CHAPTER 10 Quality of Service 423
  10.1 Introduction 424
  10.2 Models of Response-Time Impacts 425
  10.3 Expectations and Attitudes 434
  10.4 User Productivity 438
  10.5 Variability in Response Time 440
  10.6 Frustrating Experiences 441

CHAPTER 11 Balancing Function and Fashion 451
  11.1 Introduction 452
  11.2 Error Messages 453
  11.3 Nonanthropomorphic Design 458
  11.4 Display Design 463
  11.5 Web Page Design 469
  11.6 Window Design 474
  11.7 Color 483

CHAPTER 12 User Documentation and Online Help 495
  12.1 Introduction 496
  12.2 Online Versus Paper Documentation 498
  12.3 Reading from Paper Versus from Displays 501
  12.4 Shaping the Content of the Documentation 504
  12.5 Accessing the Documentation 509
  12.6 Online Tutorials and Animated Demonstrations 517
  12.7 Online Communities for User Assistance 522
  12.8 The Development Process 524

CHAPTER 13 Information Search 531
  13.1 Introduction 532
  13.2 Searching in Textual Documents and Database Querying 535
  13.3 Multimedia Document Searches 543
  13.4 Advanced Filtering and Search Interfaces 545

CHAPTER 14 Information Visualization 555
  14.1 Introduction 556
  14.2 Data Type by Task Taxonomy 557
  14.3 Challenges for Information Visualization 572
Afterword  Societal and Individual Impact of User Interfaces  581
A.1  Future Interfaces  582
A.2  Ten Plagues of the Information Age  587
A.3  Continuing Controversies  591
